PROMPT: STORY LEAD AD COPY

READ ME FIRST: When you enter this prompt, you will be required to provide your:

1) Product information
2) Avatar information
3) (Optional) Angle information

REQUIRED PRODUCT INFORMATION

I am generating ad copy for my brand [YOUR BRAND NAME]. We sell [PRODUCT].

Our website is [YOUR WEBSITE].

[COPY & PASTE PRODUCT DESCRIPTION]

REQUIRED AVATAR INFORMATION (Choose One Method Delete The Other)

METHOD A: Attach Macro-Avatar Output + Avatar Language Bank Output

I am targeting Macro-Avatar #[NUMBER] from my avatar research.

[ATTACH MACRO-AVATAR PDF/OUTPUT HERE]

[ATTACH CUSTOMER LANGUAGE BANK PDF HERE]

Instructions for Claude: If Language Bank provided, use verbatim phrases when they fit naturally and grammatically. DO NOT force phrases where they sound weird or break grammar. Prioritize natural flow over literal matching.

METHOD B: Provide Avatar Information Manually

Surface Desire: [What they SAY they want]

Emotional Desire: [What they REALLY want]

Primary Emotion: [Fear/Shame/Frustration/Guilt/Anxiety]

Current Experience(s): [What they're experiencing right now]

Failed Solutions: [What they've already tried] 1. 2. 3. 4.

Awareness Level: PROBLEM-AWARE

Current Products/Solutions They're Using: [What they're doing now]

REQUIRED ANGLE INFORMATION (Optional)

Do you have a specific angle you want to write for, quote, or insight you want to build the story around?

This could be:

- A Reddit comment that captures the emotion perfectly
- A forum post that shows the trigger experience
- A customer review quote
- An insight from avatar research
- A specific language pattern or phrase
- A unique discovery context (hotel, friend, etc.)

[PASTE ANGLE/QUOTE/INSIGHT HERE - DELETE THIS SECTION IF YOU'RE NOT USING]

EXECUTION FLOW

PHASE 1: Generate 10-15 Hooks → You Select One
PHASE 2: Generate The Lead (300-400 words) → You Approve
PHASE 3: Generate Full Copy (900-1,200 words)

PHASE 1: HOOK & MECHANISM GENERATION

STEP 1A: Generate 10-15 Hook Options

Create hooks using these PATTERNS. Each must follow Rule of One (one idea, one emotion, one benefit).

Instructions for Claude:

- Use avatar's Primary Emotion to select pattern category
- Use Key Trigger Experience for specificity
- Use Surface Desire + Emotional Desire for benefit framing
- If ANGLE provided, incorporate that language/insight into hooks
- Generate 10-15 variations across multiple pattern types

HEADLINE PATTERN LIBRARY

FEAR / LOSS PATTERNS

1. "A [small action] that cost a [person type] [specific loss]"
2. "Are you ever [embarrassing situation]?"
3. "Do you make these mistakes in [area]?"
4. "[Number] [problems] — which do you have?"
5. "Little [leaks] that keep [people] [suffering]"
6. "Does your [thing] ever embarrass you?"
7. "What everybody ought to know about [problem]"

CURIOSITY / SECRET PATTERNS

1. "The secret of [achieving outcome]"
2. "Who else wants [aspirational result]?"
3. "Thousands have this [gift] — but never discover it"
4. "Discover the [benefit] hidden in your [situation]"
5. "What [authority] discovered about [problem]"

TRANSFORMATION PATTERNS

1. "How I [achieved result] in [timeframe]"
2. "How a [discovery] made a [person type] [aspirational identity]"
3. "They laughed when I [action] — but when I [result]!"
4. "How I made a fortune with a [fool idea]"
5. "No more [negative] for me — yet [positive result]"
6. "I lost my [problem] ... and [bonus benefit], too"

IDENTIFICATION PATTERNS

1. "To [avatar description] who want to [desire] — but [obstacle]"

2. "To [people] who [unfulfilled desire]"
3. "Are you [negative identity]?"
4. "[Number] types of [category] — which are you?"

MECHANISM PATTERNS

1. "New [discovery] [achieves result] in [timeframe]"
2. "Why [brand] [delivers result] [this year]"
3. "How to [achieve goal] — [simple method]"
4. "[Surprising fact] about [problem]"

GUARANTEE PATTERNS

1. "[Result] in [timeframe] — or [risk reversal]"
2. "Guaranteed to [overcome obstacle] — or [consequence]"
3. "[Authority] prove [number] out of [number] can [result]"

QUESTION PATTERNS

1. "When [situation], this is what [authority] does"
2. "Who ever heard of [impossible combination]?"
3. "Whose fault when [problem occurs]?"
4. "Have you these symptoms of [condition]?"

ADVICE PATTERNS

1. "Advice to [group] [experiencing problem] — by a [peer]"
2. "[Number] reasons why it would have paid you to [action] [timeframe ago]"

SOCIAL PROOF PATTERNS

1. "Everywhere [people] are [enthusiastic action] about [product]"
2. "Thousands now [achieve goal] who never thought they could"
3. "You never saw such [reactions] as [people] got"

COMMAND PATTERNS

1. "Throw away your [old solution]!"
2. "Buy no [product] — until you've [done this]"

=== HOOK OPTIONS (10-15) ===

Targeting Summary:

Avatar: [Who we're targeting]
Primary Emotion: [Fear/Shame/etc.]
Key Trigger: [What event created this]
Surface Desire: [What they say they want]
Emotional Desire: [What they really want]
Angle Used (if provided): [Quote/insight incorporated]

HOOK #1
Headline: "[Actual headline]"
Pattern: [Which pattern used]
Pattern Category: [Fear/Curiosity/Transformation/etc.]
Core Idea: [ONE thing this communicates]
Emotion Triggered: [Primary emotion]
Story Angle: [What story would this open?]
Why This Works: [Brief explanation]

HOOK #2
Headline: "[Actual headline]"
Pattern: [Which pattern used]
Pattern Category: [Category]
Core Idea: [ONE thing]
Emotion Triggered: [Primary emotion]
Story Angle: [What story opens]
Why This Works: [Brief explanation]

[Continue for 10-15 hooks, varying pattern types]

👉 SELECT YOUR HOOK: Type number 1-15

STEP 1B: Generate Mechanism Pair

Instructions for Claude: Based on selected hook, avatar information, and product category, generate UMP/UMS that drives the story.

Requirements:

- ✅ Easy to believe (based on common knowledge, not fringe science)
- ✅ Easy to understand (explainable in 2-3 sentences max)

- ✅ Strategically differentiated (shows why Failed Solutions don't work)
- ✅ Connects to avatar's Key Trigger Experience
- ✅ Addresses avatar's Surface Desire AND Emotional Desire

How to Generate:

1. Analyze Failed Solutions from Phase 0
    - What have they tried?
    - Why didn't it work?
2. Analyze Product Features
    - What does this product do differently?
    - What technology/material/design makes it unique?
3. Find the Gap
    - What do failed solutions LACK that this product HAS?
    - Create mechanism stories around those gaps
4. Match to Awareness Level
    - Level 4: Simple, biological/intuitive mechanisms
    - Level 5: More education needed, frame as discovery

OUTPUT FORMAT:

=== MECHANISM PAIR ===

SELECTED HOOK: "[Chosen headline]"

Story Angle: [What story this hook opens]

UMP (Unique Mechanism - Problem):
[2-3 sentences: Hidden reason WHY problem exists/persists that they don't know about]

Why Easy to Believe:
[Common knowledge this is based on - e.g., "Everyone knows X..." or "Basic physics shows..."]

Why Easy to Understand:
[Simple cause → effect: "When X happens, Y results"]

Why This Explains Failed Solutions:
[Connect to specific Failed Solutions from Phase 0]
- "[Failed Solution 1] doesn't work because [UMP reason]"

- "[Failed Solution 2] fails because [UMP reason]"

UMS (Unique Mechanism - Solution):
[2-3 sentences: How THIS product specifically solves the UMP]

Product Features That Deliver This:
[Specific features/materials/design from product category]

Why This Works For Story:
[How this mechanism creates the transformation journey]

Discovery Context Suggestion:
[Where/how protagonist might naturally discover this - hotel, friend, accident, etc.]

👉 Type "APPROVED" to proceed or "REVISE" with feedback

PHASE 2: GENERATE THE LEAD (300-400 words)

Instructions for Claude: Generate story opening based on selected hook, mechanisms, and avatar information.

LEAD STRUCTURE REQUIREMENTS

Opening Must Include:

- Hook as headline
- Establish emotional conflict immediately (use Primary Emotion from Phase 0)
- Introduce protagonist (match avatar demographics)
- Show current pain state (reference Key Trigger if recent, or current suffering)
- Create identification (specific details from avatar's life)
- Reference 1-2 Failed Solutions from Phase 0
- End with sense of being stuck/trapped
- NO product mention yet
- NO mechanism explanation yet

Tone Guidelines:

- Conversational (Facebook post style, NOT "copywriter voice")
- Short sentences (5-10 words preferred in emotional moments)
- Present tense where possible
- Specific details (times: "3am", places: "guest room", numbers: "three years")
- Vulnerable, honest voice (first-person confession)
- Zero salesy language
- Line breaks every 2-3 sentences for readability

Structural Flow:

1. Hook headline
2. Opening emotional statement (1-2 punchy sentences)
3. Specific scene/moment (establish "where we are now")
4. Sensory details (what they see/feel/hear)
5. Current pain state (how it feels to live this)
6. Failed attempts mentioned (not detailed yet, just hinted)
7. Dominant emotion emphasized (fear/shame/guilt peak)
8. Bridge setup ("Then something happened..." or "I was stuck until...")

Breakthrough Advertising Techniques:

IDENTIFICATION (Critical):

- Protagonist = avatar from Phase 0
- Use specific details that make them REAL (ages, timelines, specific behaviors)
- Emotional state must be deeply relatable
- Failed Solutions from Phase 0 woven in naturally
- Character role protagonist embodies (from avatar research)

GRADUALIZATION:

- Build emotional agreement first
- Use "inclusion questions" if relevant to pattern
- Layer emotional truth (don't dump all pain at once)
- NO product reveal
- NO mechanism explanation
- Just pure identification + pain

INTENSIFICATION:

- Multiple angles on pain (physical, emotional, relational, identity)
- Escalating emotional impact through story
- Different manifestations of same core problem

- Specific examples of suffering

ANGLE INTEGRATION (if provided in Phase 0):

- Weave language/insight from Angle into opening
- Use as emotional anchor or specific detail
- Can be direct quote or rephrased sentiment

OUTPUT FORMAT:

=== THE LEAD (300-400 words) ===

[HEADLINE FROM SELECTED HOOK]

[Opening 300-400 words following structure above]

LEAD METADATA:

Word Count: [X words]

Techniques Applied:

Identification:
- Protagonist: [Description of who they are]
- Character Role: [What role/identity they're trapped in]
- Specific Details Used: [Times, places, numbers that make it real]
- Failed Solutions Shown: [Which from Phase 0]

Gradualization:
- Emotional Agreement Built: [How]
- Belief Established: [What reader now believes]
- Product Mention: [None - as required]

Intensification:
- Pain Angles Shown:
  1. [Physical/emotional/relational/etc.]
  2. [Another angle]
  3. [Another angle]
- Dominant Emotion: [Which emphasized most]

Emotional Arc:

- Opening Emotion: [What reader feels at start]
- Peak Emotion: [Highest point in lead]
- Ending Emotion: [What reader feels at end - typically stuck/hopeless]

Bridge Setup:
[What question/curiosity does this create for next section? What's the natural next beat of the story?]

QUALITY CHECKS:

Tone:
✓ Conversational (not copywriter voice)
✓ Short sentences in emotional moments
✓ Specific details throughout
✓ First-person throughout
✓ Zero salesy language

Structure:
✓ Hook follows Rule of One
✓ Immediate emotional conflict
✓ Protagonist clearly identified
✓ Failed solutions hinted
✓ No product mention
✓ Ends with stuck/trapped feeling

Avatar Alignment:
✓ Matches Primary Emotion
✓ References Key Trigger (if applicable)
✓ Uses Failed Solutions
✓ Addresses Surface + Emotional Desire
✓ Awareness level appropriate

👉 Type "APPROVED" to continue to full copy
👉 Type "REVISE [specific feedback]" for changes
👉 Type "NEW DIRECTION" to try different story angle

PHASE 3: GENERATE FULL COPY (900-1,200 words)

Instructions for Claude: Complete the story with remaining sections. Total length: 1,200-1,600 words including approved lead.

Story Structure:

- Section 1: Failed Attempts & Escalation (200-300 words)
- Section 2: Discovery (250-350 words)
- Section 3: Mechanism Reveal (250-350 words)
- Section 4: Product Trial (200-300 words)
- Section 5: Transformation (250-350 words)
- Section 6: Close & CTA (150-200 words)

SECTION 1: FAILED ATTEMPTS & ESCALATION (200-300 words)

Purpose: Show protagonist tried everything, nothing worked, pain escalating

Structure:

- Expand on Failed Solutions from Phase 0 (2-4 specific attempts)
- Show WHAT they tried (not WHY it failed mechanistically - that's Section 3)
- Why each didn't work (protagonist's own explanation at the time)
- Escalating frustration/cost
- Emotional, financial, or relational consequences
- Peak moment of hopelessness
- "I was stuck" moment that sets up discovery

Tone:

- Still first-person story
- Specific details (timelines, costs, attempts)
- Growing desperation
- Protagonist questioning themselves

Breakthrough Techniques:

CONCENTRATION (Critical):

- Destroy each alternative solution systematically
- Show specific reasons each failed (from protagonist's POV)
- Build case that "nothing works"
- Reference all Failed Solutions from Phase 0

INTENSIFICATION:

- Multiple failed attempts shown
- Different angles of suffering (time wasted, money spent, hope lost)
- Escalating costs (emotional/financial/relational)
- Mounting consequences

GRADUALIZATION:

- Language of logic ("I tried X, but..." "The problem was..." "After Y weeks...")
- Build agreement that normal solutions don't work
- Set up NEED for different approach
- Create question: "What else is there?"

Structure Pattern:

I knew [something had to change]. I started with [Failed Solution 1].

[Specific attempt details]. [Timeline]. [Initial hope].

But [why it failed from their POV at the time]. [Consequence].

So I tried [Failed Solution 2]. [Specific details]. [More hope].

[Why this failed]. [Cost - time/money/emotion]. [More frustration].

After [timeframe], I'd tried [Failed Solution 3] too. [Brief details].

Nothing worked.

[Peak frustration moment]. [Emotional cost]. [Relationship impact if relevant].

I was [stuck/terrified/exhausted/defeated]. [Statement of helplessness].

SECTION 2: DISCOVERY (250-350 words)

Purpose: Protagonist discovers solution through LIFE CIRCUMSTANCE (not research)

Discovery Context Types (choose based on story):

- Hotel/resort experience
- Friend/neighbor who solved same problem
- Accidental encounter
- Professional recommendation (doctor, specialist mentioned casually)
- Borrowed/tried someone else's
- Overheard conversation
- Family member's transformation
- Social gathering observation

Structure:

- Life circumstance setup (specific time/place)
- Observable proof FIRST (see results before knowing how)
    - Healthy cat
    - Transformed person
    - Visible change
    - Measurable difference
- Curiosity about HOW/WHY
- Natural investigation (questions asked)
- Product name revealed CASUALLY (not emphasized)
- Peer explains their experience (not selling, just sharing)
- Sets up "Why did this work?" question

Critical Rules:

- ❌ NO "I was researching online and found..."
- ❌ NO "I saw great reviews and decided to try..."
- ❌ NO "I compared products and chose this..."
- ❌ NO "After extensive research..."
- ✅ Life circumstance brings them into contact
- ✅ Peer recommendation (someone relatable)
- ✅ Observable results shown FIRST
- ✅ Product mentioned almost as afterthought
- ✅ Casual, natural conversation

Tone:

- Still story, still first-person
- Surprise/curiosity
- Skepticism but intrigued
- Specific dialogue if relevant
- Observational details

Breakthrough Techniques:

IDENTIFICATION:

- Peer who discovered is relatable (similar avatar)
- Their transformation is visible/measurable
- Social proof through story (not testimonial)
- "Someone like me" factor

GRADUALIZATION:

- Don't reveal mechanism yet
- Build curiosity naturally
- "Why did this work for them?" question
- Product name revealed but not explained

MECHANIZATION (Setup only):

- Hint at mechanism ("she mentioned something about...")
- Create curiosity about HOW
- Tease explanation coming

CAMOUFLAGE:

- Peer authority (they lived it)
- Observable proof (not just claims)
- Specific results shared casually

Structure Pattern:

That was [timeframe] before [life circumstance - visiting, picking up, etc.].

[Setting/situation]. [Why protagonist was there].

[Peer's transformation observed]. [Specific detail 1]. [Specific detail 2].

"[Question about what protagonist is seeing]" I asked.

"[Peer's casual response with timeline]."

[Protagonist's reaction - surprise/curiosity].

"[Question about how]"

[Peer's explanation - casual, not selling]. [Mentions product almost as aside].

[More observable proof shown]. [Specific measurements/results/timeline].

I [pulled out phone / made mental note / asked more questions].

"[Product name]," [peer] said. "[Brief feature mention]."

But I wasn't convinced yet. I needed to understand why.

SECTION 3: MECHANISM REVEAL (250-350 words)

Purpose: Explain WHY it works - develop UMP/UMS from Phase 1

Structure:

- Protagonist investigates (research tone shift)
- Learns about UMP (why problem exists mechanically)
- "Aha" moment of understanding
- Connects UMP to Failed Solutions from Section 1 EXPLICITLY BY NAME
- Introduces UMS (how product solves UMP specifically)
- Makes it scientific but accessible (match awareness level)
- Builds belief in mechanism

Tone:

- Educational not preachy
- "This is what I learned" style
- Surprise/revelation language
- Connect back to earlier failures
- First-person discovery

Breakthrough Techniques:

MECHANIZATION (Critical - This is THE mechanism section):

Stage 1: Name the Mechanism

- Give the UMP a name or clear label
- Make it memorable
- Connect to common knowledge

Stage 2: Describe the Mechanism

- Explain HOW it works (2-3 sentences from Phase 1 UMP, now expanded)
- Use simple cause → effect language
- Make it visual if possible

- Match sophistication to Awareness Level:
    - Level 4: More biological/intuitive explanations
    - Level 5: More basic, educational

Stage 3: Feature the Mechanism

- Show why THIS mechanism is the key
- Why protagonist (and reader) never knew this
- Why this changes everything

GRADUALIZATION (Critical):

- Layer the explanation (don't dump all at once)
- Language of logic throughout:
    - "Here's what I discovered..."
    - "The research showed..."
    - "It turns out..."
    - "The reason [Failed Solution 1] didn't work was because..."
- Build from what they already believe
- Address false beliefs explicitly from avatar research

CONCENTRATION:

- Show WHY each Failed Solution failed MECHANISTICALLY
- Reference Section 1 failures by name
- "That's why [X] didn't work. That's why [Y] failed."
- Build exclusive case for THIS approach

REDEFINITION:

- Reframe their understanding of problem
- "It's not what I thought"
- "I'd been fighting the wrong battle"
- Shift from symptom to root cause

Structure Pattern:

I was skeptical. I'd tried [Failed Solution from Section 1]. What made this different?

I started researching [topic related to UMP]. [Where - if avatar would research this way].

[What research revealed]. [Key finding].

[UMP explained - developed from Phase 1]:
[Sentence 1: The mechanism]
[Sentence 2: Why it causes problem]

[Sentence 3: What it means]

[Connect to protagonist's experience]. That's why I'd been struggling.

[Connect to Failed Solutions explicitly]:
That's why [Failed Solution 1] didn't work - it didn't address [UMP element].
That's why [Failed Solution 2] failed - it actually made [UMP element] worse.

I'd been treating [surface symptom] when the real problem was [UMP].

[Realization moment]. [What protagonist didn't know before].

But here's what changed everything: [Transition to UMS]

[UMS explained - developed from Phase 1]:
[How product specifically solves UMP]
[Why it's different from failed solutions]
[What makes it work]

[Bridge to trying product]. I had to know if this would actually work.

SECTION 4: PRODUCT TRIAL (200-300 words)

Purpose: Product as vehicle for mechanism - protagonist tries it

Structure:

- How protagonist obtained product
- Often hesitant/skeptical at first
- Specific trial details (day 1, first week, etc.)
- Immediate or gradual results (match reality)
- Surprise at effectiveness
- Validation that mechanism actually works
- Specific observations/measurements

Tone:

- Still story not pitch
- Natural progression
- Skepticism → belief arc
- Specific timeline details
- Observational (what changed)

Breakthrough Techniques:

INTENSIFICATION:

- Multiple proof points over time
- Different scenarios showing it works
- Before/after specific moments
- Unexpected benefits

CAMOUFLAGE:

- Social proof woven in (others noticing)
- Authority validation if relevant (vet approved, spouse noticed, etc.)
- Measurements/data if avatar tracks this

IDENTIFICATION:

- Transformation beginning
- Character role starting to shift
- Small identity wins

GRADUALIZATION:

- Results build gradually (believable timeline)
- Each proof point builds on last
- Skepticism → curiosity → belief arc

Structure Pattern:

[How product was obtained - often secretive or hesitant].

[Initial skepticism]. I didn't tell [anyone] about it at first.

[Day/Night 1]: [First observation]. [Specific detail].

I waited. Watched. [Skeptical monitoring].

[Day/Week timeframe]: [Next observation]. [Another specific].

By [timeframe], [undeniable change]. [Measurement/proof].

[Validation moment]. The mechanism was real.

[Optional: Others noticing]. [Peer/family comment].

[Optional: Continued results]. [Longer timeline validation].

[What protagonist realized]. This wasn't [failed solution type]. This was [what it actually is].

SECTION 5: TRANSFORMATION (250-350 words)

Purpose: Complete emotional payoff - show full transformation

Structure:

- Immediate results recap
- Progressive improvements over longer timeline
- EMOTIONAL transformation (PRIMARY FOCUS - this is most important)
- Identity shift ("I'm myself again" / "I'm not that person anymore")
- Relationship impacts (if relevant to avatar)
- Contrast with opening pain from Lead
- Unexpected benefits beyond Surface Desire
- Current state (where they are now)
- Return to Emotional Desire fulfillment

Sentence Structure:

- SHORT sentences (3-8 words in emotional moments)
- Punchy
- Emotional
- Present tense where possible
- Frequent line breaks (every 2-3 sentences)

Emotional Focus Priority:

1. How they FEEL (most important)
2. Who they've BECOME (identity restoration)
3. What's been RESTORED (relationships, peace, self-image)
4. Physical results (secondary to emotional)

Breakthrough Techniques:

IDENTIFICATION (Critical - complete the arc):

- Show complete transformation
- New identity established (call back to character roles)
- Achievement roles attained (from avatar research)
- "Before" identity → "After" identity contrast
- Reference opening pain to show distance traveled

INTENSIFICATION:

- Multiple transformation angles
- Different ways life improved
- Unexpected benefits protagonist didn't expect
- Compound effects (one thing led to another)

GRADUALIZATION:

- Reference opening pain specifically
- Show believable timeline
- Layer improvements (immediate → short-term → long-term)
- Complete the emotional journey

Tone:

- Triumphant but not over-the-top
- Specific and grounded
- Emotional but genuine
- Relief/joy/surprise
- Intimate (still first-person confession)

Structure Pattern:

[Immediate result - first timeframe]. [Specific change]. [Observable metric].

By [short timeframe], [bigger transformation]. [More capability/relief].

[Action protagonist can do now]. [Another action]. [Another]. [Emotional state].

Within [medium timeframe], [identity restoration moment]. [What became possible].
[Relationship impact if relevant].

[Specific emotional win]. [Another emotional detail].

The [physical result] was one thing.

But here's what I didn't expect:

[Unexpected transformation 1].
[Unexpected transformation 2].
[Identity shift statement].

It's been [current timeline]. [Current state metric if applicable].

[Identity restoration statement]. [Contrast with opening].

[New behavior or state]. [How different from Section 1 suffering].

[Optional: Social proof moment - peer/authority validation]. [What they said]. [Validation received].

[Return to Emotional Desire]. I have [emotional desire] back. [Or: I'm finally [emotional desire]].

[Final emotional beat]. Short. Powerful. True.

Examples of Effective Transformation Sentences:

- "The fear is gone."
- "I sleep now."
- "I'm myself again."
- "My kids have their dad back."
- "I'm not just surviving anymore."
- "I'm living."
- "The guilt disappeared."
- "I can breathe."

SECTION 6: CLOSE & CTA (150-200 words)

Purpose: Soft transition to action while maintaining story tone

Structure:

- Return to reader directly (shift to second-person)
- "If this sounds familiar..." or similar opening
- Restate problem briefly (2-3 pain points from avatar)
- Future consequences if no action (physical AND emotional AND relational)
- Product availability
- Guarantee/trial period if applicable
- How to validate (using avatar's behaviors)
- Current offer/discount if applicable
- Website URL
- Emotional permission ("You deserve...")
- Simple next step

Tone Shift:

- NOW switch to second-person ("you", "your")
- Maintain empathy and story voice
- Permission-giving not pushy
- Supportive and encouraging
- "I've been there" authority

Opening Options (choose one that fits emotional tone):

1. "If any of this sounds familiar..."
2. "If this is your life right now..."
3. "If you've been living this way..."
4. "Look - if you're still reading this, you know what I'm talking about."
5. "If you've been where I was..."
6. "If even one of these things hits home..."
7. "The fact that you've read this far means you recognize something."

Structure:

- Opening (one of above)
- Restate 2-3 pain points briefly
- Stakes (what happens if they don't act)
- "This is fixable" hope statement
- Product name + offer details
- Guarantee/trial with justification
- How to validate (match avatar monitoring behaviors)
- URL
- Emotional permission + encouragement
- Final push (gentle)

Breakthrough Techniques:

IDENTIFICATION:

- "You" = protagonist they just read about
- Permission to want transformation
- "You deserve" language

REDEFINITION:

- Reframe from "my problem" to "fixable situation"
- From hopeless to possible

INTENSIFICATION:

- Multiple future consequences shown briefly
- Emotional + physical + relational stakes

GRADUALIZATION:

- Guarantee builds belief in trying
- Validation method makes it logical
- Step-by-step simple action

Structure Pattern:

[Opening - choose one from above]

[Pain point 1 from avatar]. [Pain point 2]. [Pain point 3].

This isn't [false belief avatar has].

[Future consequence - physical]. [Future consequence - emotional]. [Future consequence - relational if applicable]. The damage accumulates. / [Time urgency statement].

And I'm telling you: this is fixable.

[Product name] offers [guarantee/trial]. [Why this exists - builds belief].

[How to validate - using avatar's own behaviors/metrics]. [What to watch for]. You'll see [result] within [realistic timeframe].

[Current offer/discount if applicable].

[Website URL]

You deserve [emotional permission - what they've been denied]. [Their situation/person] deserves [what product delivers emotionally].

[Final encouragement]. [Simple next step].

QUALITY CHECKS:

Tone:
✓ Conversational (Facebook post style, not copywriter)
✓ Short sentences in emotional sections (3-8 words)
✓ Specific details throughout (times, places, numbers)
✓ First-person through Section 5
✓ Second-person only in Section 6 (CTA)
✓ Zero salesy language until very end
✓ Vulnerable, honest voice maintained

Structure:
✓ Hook follows Rule of One

✓ Lead creates immediate identification
✓ Failed Solutions from Phase 0 all shown
✓ Discovery feels natural (life circumstance, not research)
✓ Observable proof before product name
✓ Mechanism revealed gradually in Section 3
✓ Product introduced mid-story (Section 2-4)
✓ Transformation emotionally focused (not just features)
✓ Close maintains story voice (not jarring pitch)

Avatar Alignment:
✓ Matches Primary Emotion from Phase 0
✓ References Key Trigger Experience appropriately
✓ Uses all Failed Solutions from Phase 0
✓ Addresses Surface Desire
✓ Fulfills Emotional Desire
✓ Sophistication matches Awareness Level
✓ Discovery context fits avatar psychology

Mechanism Integration:
✓ UMP developed from Phase 1 (not copied verbatim)
✓ UMS developed from Phase 1 (not copied verbatim)
✓ Failed Solutions connected to UMP explicitly ✓ Product features tied to UMS clearly
✓ Mechanism explanation accessible for Awareness Level

Emotional Arc:
✓ Lead: Pain established, identification created
✓ Section 1: Pain amplified, hopelessness peaked
✓ Section 2: Hope introduced (discovery)
✓ Section 3: Understanding gained (mechanism)
✓ Section 4: Belief growing (trial)
✓ Section 5: Transformation complete (emotional payoff)
✓ Section 6: Permission given (reader's turn)

Story Integrity:
✓ No research-based discovery
✓ No "I found the best product" language
✓ Peer recommendation natural and casual
✓ Product name revealed organically
✓ Timeline believable throughout
✓ No jarring tone shifts
✓ Maintains first-person intimacy until CTA
